Options Description

The BSB Numbers in Australian book is available with an accompanying CD containing the same information as Section 1 of the publication, ready to be imported into your own application such as a suitable Database, Spreadsheet or Word Processor type of program.

The BSB book and disk may be purchased on a one-off basis, or as updated versions four times per year, dated March, June, September and December. Computer disks are sold in conjunction with the book and may not be purchased separately.

The data is supplied as a fixed width ASCII code text file on a CD suitable for an IBM or true compatible PC, and must only be used on one computer and by one user at a time. If you wish to use multiple copies, or use it in an office network environment, you are required to purchase that number of disks or purchase a multi-user licence, PLEASE NOTE: The multiuser license is per office site, multiple licenses will still need to be purchased for multiple sites.
